

University for Peace

Anu Jain
Entrepreneur and Philanthropist
Member
Commission for Peace

Anu Jain is an entrepreneur and philanthropist driven to make a positive impact in the world.

Anu is on the Advisory Board and founding member of the leadership circle of the United Nations Foundation Girl Up, a movement to advance girls' skills, rights, and opportunities to be leaders.

She is also on the Board of XPRIZE, a platform to catalyze innovation by incentivizing radical breakthroughs for the benefit of humanity.

Anu is on the University of California San Diego Health Board of Advisors and their Science, Technology and Global Initiatives committee.

She is the founder of the Women's Safety XPRIZE, where she launched and awarded $1 million to incentivize innovators to design a technology-based safety solution for women.

She is also the Founder and CEO of the Anu and Naveen Jain Family Foundation, where she focuses on advancing girls & women and increasing global access to education, health, & wellness thru technology and innovation.

Anu is a member of Women Moving Millions, an organization with a big and bold mission to mobilize unprecedented resources for the advancement of girls and women.

Currently, Anu is the Vice President of Community Relations at Viome, a company focused on preventing diseases using food as a medicine.

Anu has served on numerous other boards in the past, including United Way of King County, University Prep Academy and is currently on the Emeritus Council of Bellevue LifeSpring.

Anu holds a BA in business administration and economics from SUNY, Stony Brook, NY, and an MBA from Rutgers University in New Jersey. As a United Nations child, Anu grew up in many different countries and currently lives with her husband in Medina, WA. She has three adult children, all entrepreneurs making a positive impact. Anu enjoys the outdoors, yoga, and meditation.